

Rosderra Irish Meats – Edenderry are seeking applications for an Environmental Technician position based at our Edenderry Site.

General Requirements:

The candidate must have an interest in environmental topics and be technically competent in a scientific field, with good communication, technical reporting and systems skills.

He/She must be flexible, enjoy a changing work environment across a broad environmental field.

Duties include:

- Implementing Environmental Management Systems, laboratory systems & SAP laboratory systems, waste register, training programmes.
- Working within the site's Environmental Laboratory, testing and analysing samples to verify compliance with the site's Industrial Emission (IE) licence. Maintenance of paperwork, including Quality Control Manual.
- Odour Management, Noise Management and Water Management
- Collating and maintaining data in accordance with the site IE Licence.
- Environmental reporting as part of the site management structure.
- Technical reporting to EPA, Annual Environmental Reporting, Repak statistical reporting, presentation skills.
- Waste & Sludge Management.
- Communications - dealing with EPA Inspectors, County Council Officials, Bord Bia in relation to Origin Green requirements, local stakeholders and other third party visits as necessary.
- Implementation of IE Licence requirements ensuring compliance, identifying best practice and maintaining a good working relationship with the EPA.
- Maintain current energy data monitoring system and working with the Site Management to identify potential energy saving projects.
- Weekend/Out of Hours work may be necessary as site situations dictate
- Supporting continuous improvement and leading Environmental Department daily Performance review meetings and driving improvements of targeted KPIs.

Qualifications:

- A third level Science based qualification, preferably with an Environmental Science component

- Experience in a laboratory setting is favourable

The successful candidates will be rewarded with a competitive salary, the opportunity to join the Company Pension Scheme and will be given a specific training and development programme to optimise his/her potential.

Applicants can apply in writing enclosing a cover letter